CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Because of the influenza epidemic there will be no meeting of the Daughters of Isabella at St. Mary's Hall this evening.

Mr. Edward Walker, circulation manager of the Gazette, who has been ill for the past week with a severe cold, is able to be out again.

Mr. Nevell S. Greenaway, clerk of the courts, who for the past ten days has been confined to his home with a severe cold, is out again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cockrell, of 505 Prince street, have been notified that their son private Thomas Cockrell, has arrived safely overseas.

A meeting of the executive committee of the local Liberty Loan Committee will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Smith Chauncey and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Chauncey, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chauncey are ill at their parents' residence, the first named has pneumonia and the last named Spanish influenza.

The condition of John F. Bayliss, who has been critically ill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hillman Bayliss, in Mount Vernon district, is improved.

Mr. Courtland H. Davis will leave tonight for Minneapolis, Minn., to enter a course of training in the Naval Aviation Corps Mr. Davis for several years past has been associated with Attorney Robinson Moncure in the practice of law.

Several persons, white and colored, who were arrested Saturday night by State prohibition inspectors on the charge of violating the prohibition law were yesterday held by the Police Court for the action of the grand jury.

The many friends of Captain Herbert D. Young, formerly of this city, but now in charge of the Salvation Army work in Newport News, Va., will regret to learn that he has been very ill for the past week, at the home of Mrs. David McCrae, 216 Prince street.

Prohibition insuectors with city policemen and members of the military police yesterday afternoon made a descent upon a houseboat at the Dyke and arrested several persons who, it is alleged, were engaged in gambling and violating the prohibition law. They were conducted to the station house in this city and subsequently released to appear before Justice Kerby of Fairfax county tomorrow.

A fight occurred yesterday between a guard and a drunken and disorderly man at the cafeteria of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, during which the guard was severely beaten. Other attaches of the place also became involved in the disturbance. The man who is charged with starting the trouble was arrested, but released upon collateral. He failed to appear before the Police Court this morning. It is said that the matter will be investigated later.

DOUBLE WEDDING AT ELKWOOD

A very pretty double wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Whitlock, Elkwood, Va., on October 2, when their daughters, Carrie Lewis and Jessie Lilian became the brides respectively of John W. Embrey and Grover C. Gibson, both of the Southern Railway. Promptly at 8 o'clock in the evening the bridal couples entered the parlor, which was prettily decorated with golden rod and evergreens. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Grubbs. Shortly afterwards the bridal couples left for a honeymoon trip, which will include visits to Philadelphia, New York and Niagara Falls. They will make their home in Alexandria.

GERMAN PEACE NOVES

Instant Rejection of Terms by the Allies is Said to be Imminent.

The Austrian note reached the Swedish Legation late yesterday. W. A. F. Ekengren, Swedish Minister will deliver it personally to Secretary of State Lansing today. The text of the note is understood to be the same as that carried in the newspaper cables.

Instant rejection by the United States will be the fate of the latest peace proposals from the central powers.

President Wilson will handle the situation, and handle it in a hurry He is expected to act as soon as the State Department receives officially the text of the notes from Berlin and Vienna.

There was no disposition in official circles last night to distinguish between the German and Austrian moves, as the proposals are deemed but another step in the great peace offensive now under way. Because the two governments are acting in accord on the matter, word of similar action on the part of Turkey is expected momentarily.

Sentiment in both branches of Congress is emphatically opposed to according even a respectful hearing to any further peace suggestions from Germany or Austria until they openly admit defeat and complete failure of their war aims or are thoroughly thrashed by force of arms.

If the central powers sincerely desire a cessation of hostilities and peace Bulgaria has pointed the way, is the opinion expressed by both Senators and Representatives.

The military situation in which Austria finds herself is the most desperate of any nation in Europe and will force her, after the rejection of her plea for armistice, to lay down her arms unconditionally.

This statement represents both a State Department and a high military official's opinion, and these two are in a position to give a correct analysis of the plight of the Dual Monarchy. From the military point of view, the statement is based on two movements, the latter of which was disclosed when stress was laid on the fact that the new Italian offensive through Albania, for the first time, applied the principle of the pincers to Austria. From what has been disclosed as to this Italian movement, it is plain to staff officers that it is perhaps equal in importance with the Macedonian drive, of which it was originally a part.

The Italian offensive, it is stated was undertaken in close logical connection with the combined American allied naval attack on Durazzo, the Austrian naval base, and the whole movement is the first undertaken against Austria by a combination of the navy and army.

What the staff says is that the Italians are going on, probably by forced marches, directly towards Durazzo, and that this is precisely what Gen. Allenby is doing in Asia Minor, taking the coast towns and opening them up to the navy for supplies, with his main objective Constantinople.

J. F. C. TALBOTT DEAD

Veteran Statesman Was Known as the "Father" of the House of Representatives.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 7.—Representative J. F. C. Talbott, of the Second Maryland District, died at his home, Lutherville, Baltimore County, shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday night.

The veteran statesman, who was the "father" of the American House of Representatives, the last surviving Confederate in the lower body of the National Legislature, had been in failing health for about a year. Death was due to acute uraemia, aggravated by a heavy cold contracted during the summer and which failed to respond to treatment.

HUNS ADMIT RETREATS

London, Oct. 7.—Fresnoyle-Grand, eight and a half miles northeast of St. Quentin, was captured by the British yesterday, Field Marshal Haig announces in his night report. They also improved their positions around Aubencheul-aux-Bois (midway between St. Quentin and Cambrai).

Berlin, via London, Oct. 7. -A retirement of the German and Turkish forces north of Damascus, Palestine, was admitted by the war office yesterday.

An advance by the Americans between the Argonne and the Meuse was admitted by the war office in its report yesterday.

South of Cambrai the enemy evacuated a front of seven miles to a depth of between one and two miles. The evacuation of Cambrai itself is imminent, because of the sustained British pressure to the east and west of the city.

The Germans are at the same time clearing out of the great Rheims salient, abandoning the important ridges of Moronvillers and Nogent-la Basse. By this withdrawal they are shortening their front by at least ten miles.

There are signs of German shortage of ammunition for their heaviest guns.

One-quarter of the German artillery on the West front has been captured by the allies and Americans since Foch's series of drives began on July 18.

AN APPEAL FOR NURSES

All Women Who Can Assist in Work Wanted at Camp Humphreys—Should Report at 10 o'clock Tomorrow at Rooms of Chamber of Commerce.

An urgent appeal is made to the women of this city to go to the base hospital at Camp Humphreys and assist the Red Cross nurses. This appeal was issued today by Maj. Newhoue, medical officer in charge.

All women who will volunteer to serve are requested to meet promptly at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

They are directed to bring with them a cake of soap, a wash rag, wear a wash dress and bring along an extra wash dress.

They must obey the orders given by the nurses and it is announced every precaution will be taken to prevent them from catching the disease. The work will consist only of nursing as all of the heavy work will be done by the orderlies of the camp

Among the women who responded to the call today were Miss Jessie Callahan, Mrs. John T. Johnson, Miss Cora Cochran, Mrs. Sinclair.

GERMANS BURN TOWNS

Paris, Oct. 7.—(10:31 a. m.)—The Germans are burning villages and towns behind their lines along the whole front from Lille to Rheims. This is believed to presage a retirement in several sectors.

South of Cambrai the enemy is reported already to have fallen back two miles on a seven mile front.

At least a score of places are in flames. Loan, the great communication center and base east of the St. Gobain massif, was set on fire yesterday. Sallaumines, east of Lens, and several villages southeast and west of Lille and between Douai and Somain, are burning. the French found Nogent-L'Abbassee, Bein, and all the villages in the Suippe valley in flames.

M. Civirieux, writing in the Matin, says: "The fighting continues, and will continue to the end, until there is a general German retreat. This retreat is announced by the burning of villages. Great evacuations seem near."

The State Board of Health is unanimous in the opinion that all crowds and gatherings of all kinds, indoors and outdoors, during the prevalence of Spanish Grippe or Influenza are positively dangerous and all people are warned against attending them. Local officials are urged to prohibit such meetings. All statements to the contrary are incorrect.

B. R. TUCKER,
Acting President,
State Board of Health.

ENNION G. WILLIAMS,
State Health Commissioner.

The Executive Commitee of the Virginia Council of Defense heartily concurs in the recommendation of the State Board of Health and urges popular compliance as a patriotic duty and endorses the Board's efforts to minimize the dangers accompanying the present epedemic of Spanish Influenza.

C. R. KEIELY,
Executive Secretary.

ESCAPES FROM JAIL

Fairfax and Alexandria county authorities, with assistance of bloodhounds, are trailing him, apparently toward Washington.

Ben Rubin made his escape at 1 o'clock, but it was at least an hour before searching parties could be organized.

The escape was made by means of a hack saw, which, according to Lou Hall and Rubin's fellow-prisoners, Rubin has been exhibiting for several days. For two days he has begged Lou Hall to go with him, but to all entreaties Hall says he turned a deaf ear. Just before Rubin filed the last bar through, he told Hall he would kill him if he did not accompany him.

"I told him," said Hall, "I was innocent of what they charged me with therefore, I would not leave until I let the law run its course."

Rubin sawed through three overhead bars, one of which he sawed at both ends. He then climbed through and to the top of the cage. Walking to the end of the cage he climbed down into the women's ward, there Edith Haas, the woman horse thief, is confined in the former cell of Lou Hall.

Edith Haas says that he claimed to have a gun, and told her is she made an outcry he would blow out her brains. She also said he had one of the sawed iron bars in his hand.

Rubin crawled under a broken-down table near the door, where he remained until Mrs. Harvey Cross, the wife of the county jailer, opened the door with dinner for the woman prisoner. As soon as the door was opened, he rushed by, upsetting Mrs. Cross. In his hand he had the iron bar, which he dropped when he reached the outside.

Mrs. Cross made an outcry and turned to see the prisoner running across the courthouse square to the woods back of Fairfax residences. He was last seen by Lee Millan about one mile from Fairfax. Parties at Hatmark telephoned Fairfax late yesterday afternoon that a man answering Rubin's description was seen at that place going in the direction of Washington. Passengers on an interurban trolley car saw a man of his description at Upton and Fostoria going in the direction of Washington

Sheriff Allison and Jailer Cross were down on the river when the escape was made and the search was therefore begun late. Bloodhounds were not put on the trail until after 2 o'clock

Lou Hall and an Italian prisoner, who was also in the cell, said that Rubin told them just before he left that he was the real murderer of Eva Roy, and that he was going back to the spring near where he murdered the girl and take another drink of water. He is said to have told other prisoners before leaving that the authorities could find him in the old Hanse house near the scene of the crime.

EPIDEMIC ON THE WANE

Dr. W. L. Wood Thinks "Flu" Soon Will Be Over, About 2,000 Cases, Most Patients On Mend. Nurses Badly Needed.

Spanish influenza is on the wane here was the opinion expressed today by Dr. W. L. Wood, special state health officer and also of the United States Public Health Service.

Dr. Wood stated that the physicians of the city have been so busy that it has been impossible for them to give the total number of cases of the epidemic they are treating. He approximated that the total number, however, will reach 2,000. Most of the patients are on the mend.

There are eighteen patients now being treated by Red Cross nurses in the temporary hospital in Christ Church parish hall. There was one death there yesterday. The total number of deaths of white persons in the city during the past twenty-four hours was seven. In addition there were several colored persons who died. The greatest number of the deaths were due to pneumonia.

The need of nurses is just now a vexing problem. Dr. Wood is anxious that all women who can come forward and lend their efforts in nursing sick persons. Pay will be given in most cases. Those who cannot give all of their time are expected to give a part of their time. This work Dr. Wood says is a patriotic duty. The services of nurses at Camp Humphreys also are badly needed.

The parish hall of St. Paul's Episcopal Church may later be converted into a temporary hospital Dr Wood says. The big problem, however, confronting the authorities just now is securing a sufficient number of nurses to treat the patients at these places.

Dr. ood is of the opinion that if the rules for treating the disease are carried out it will greatly lessen its spread.

For the first time since the civil war Alexandria yesterday had a "churchless" Sunday. The church bells were silent apart from the ringing of the Angelus at St. Mary's Catholic Church, and the streets were deserted of the usual throng of churchgoers. The "churchless" Sunday will be enforced until the epidemic entirely subsides.

GERMANS MELTING MEDALS

Decorations for Entering French Capital Now Useless.

Paris, Oct. 7.—There has just come to Paris a copy of another relic of vanished German ambition, a valuable addition to France's historic collection of war souvenirs.

It is a copy of the commemorative medal the Germans made in anticipation of their entry into Paris in September, 1914.

Thousands of them were struck off but they sort of got out of date. And then, in consequence of the lack of metals in Germany, the disappointed Huns recently were obliged to send on wagon loads of the medals to a Dresden foundry, to be made into something useful.

Only one of the original medals remains. It is on exhibition in the museum at Basel, Switzerland—an object of joy or sorrow, according to the nationality of visitors who view it.

The original medal is the size of a half dollar, made of light metal, yellow tinted. On one side is the iron cross and the date "1914" and an inscription "United within, resolute without." On the other side the Eiffel Tower and the Arch of Triumph are shown, together with the dates "1871-1914." and the inscription: "Entry of German troops into Paris."

THE PREVAILING SCOURGE.

While conditions in Alexandria are no more serious than in other places in the country, that the prevalence and spread of Spanish influenza is menacing our community is apparent. Operations in every plant or business is handicapped, and our commercial life is suffering seriously from the epidemic.

While the mortality is not of a nature to cause alarm, the fact that six persons passed away yesterday shows we were battling against a dangerous disease. In some case every member of a family is prostrated, and it is impossible to obtain help, the patients administer to themselves as best they can.

Conditions today show no improvement. The physicians are working night and day, while the apothecaries are kept busy filling prescriptions.

Quarantine in Virginia business cities to stay the hand of the plague, but its ravages continue and virtually show no abatment.

Two years ago scarlet fever vexed the epidemic in Alexandria and last summer we were menaced by typhoid fever. Today Spanish influenza, which city doctors say is old time grippe is causing suffering and anxiety.

Business has been brought to a standstill by the epidemic. The health authorities of the state as well as those of each community are doing everything pos-

WE MUST NOT BE DECEIVED

Germany is beaten! and the nation knows it. The main effort now is to retain as much as possible of the wreck. Hence the recent peace offer, evidently desired to hoodwink her allies.

While the headlines in yesterday's papers sent thrills of delight into souls in every allied country, thinking ones discerned the trail of the serpent.

There is but one reply to Emperor William's announcement that he has decided "to extend his hand" to us for "an honorable pace." We do not shake hands with murderers and assassins. We will club them into submission first, and we will pass final judgment on them later. Peace with them would be supreme dishonor.

The only peace principle that has any right to consideration until Germany is prostrate at our feet is war —"war without stint or limit." In the words of President Wilson. That is the only peace principle which we can admit to our minds now, the only one on which we can act. Absolute surrender is the sine qua on for peace, the condition precedent to the consideration of terms.

"The horned beast draws in its claws and offers us its bloodstained paw." says the Journal des Debats.

The fact to be kept constantly in mind is that this is not a war against a nation or a combination of ations, but against a great criminal which has deliberately organized to conquer and plunder the world. It is the ablest and most dangerous criminal ever known among men. We cannot talk with it or deal with it as we could with an ordinary foe. The thing represented by Prusslanism cannot change its nature any more than the devil can change his. While it lives, it must be evil because its soul and its while principle of life are the negation of good, are positive hostility and Good Prussianism is a dead Prusteeth and his claws. And then burn him.

As a cotemporary says, "There should be no armistice. When the enemy cries for peace, give him war! The world cried for peace in 1914, and Germany would not have it. The blood of millions of innocent persons in divers lands cries out from the ground, demanding that the slayers shall be shackled before peace is made with them. The nations dare not make peace with Germany; their lives will pay the forfeit if they now permit the slayer to breathe, regain his strength and resume the war. War to the limit, war until the now humbled German emperor hands over his dishonored sword; war until Germany, instead of "accepting President Wilson's proposal," tenders its unconditional surrender; that is the plain duty of the allied nation. When Germany really wants peace she will know how to get it—that is, by withdrawing her armies from every foot of allied soil, in the west, in the Balkans, and in Russia. Now, while the enemy begins to faint and ask for peace, now is the time for Liberty to drive home the blade that will make a long and quiet peace."

BREAKING WITH HIS MASTER.

Strange as it may seem, there are indications that Kaiser Wilhelm is preparing to break away from the military caste which has so long surrounded him and which, in some quarters, has been credited with having more power in Germany than the Emperor himself. The Kaiser's speech at Essen was pessimistic in the extreme, and must have been most depressing to the worker whom he was supposed to cheer. He is evidently a muchly worried man, for at last he is beginning to realize that he has been ill advised. He was informed that the United States would not enter the war, and that if this country did become a belligerent its activity would be nominal. No American army he was told, could be transported to Europe. Ships would be lacking, and even if they were not, the submarines would take care of the situation. But now a great American army menaces his purloined city of Metz. This is but one of the many worries of the Prussian war lord, but in itself it is sufficient to make him lose confidence in those whose dream of conquest has lured him on.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"WE HAVE GOT THEM."

Paris went to church yesterday as never before since the opening of hostilities. In the dark days, when the Germans occupied Chateau Thierry when their bridgehead south of the Marne was like a leveled pistol at France's heart, menacing France's very life. Paris remains indoors. But yesterday Paris sauntered out early and the churches of all denominations were filled to overflowing.

St. Gervais Church, which was damaged by the shell from the long range German gun on Good Friday, had been sufficiently repaired to permit its doors to be opened yesterday, and worshipers flocked thither to the shrine where once women and children, praying for France's liberation, were sacrificed. But if it was prayers for the dead that were sung at St. Gervais on Good Friday, it was Te Deums and hozannas of victory that floated to the heavens yesterday.

As Paris emerged from the churches it overflowed upon the cheerful boulevards or sought temporary abode in cafes bathed in sunshine and everywhere one heard no longer the familiar and hopeful cry of "We shall get them," but the satisfied and contended exclamation:

"We have got them."

"ROCKED IN THE CRADLE OF THE DEEP"

A Maryland boy while on his way to France wrote a letter to his mother, commencing the same with the following:

Here I am with thousands of others,
Somewhere on the deep, blue sea,
Thinking of our dear mothers,
And others, whom we are longing to see.

There are mothers in Alexandria who have sons upon the great deep en route to France, while others have boys upon the firing line. Parents of soldier boys are passing through the crisis of their lives. The query, "Where is my darling boy tonight?" emanates from many anxious souls.

The beast which brought all this trouble upon the world—slaughter, famine pestilence, distress and cruel anxiety—is still free and, strange to say, is wearing the white rose of innocency and offering the olive branch. Let us beware of his machinations.

TIMELY WARNINGS.

Keep away from crowds.

Avoid people who are coughing or sneezing.

Don't put into your mouth fingers Pencils or other things that don't belong there.

Don't use cup used by others without thoroughly washing it.

Avoid getting hungry, tired and cold.

Sleep and work in rooms filled with fresh air, but keep the body warm.

Eat plenty of simple, nourishing food and avoid alcoholic drinks.

When you cough or sneeze, cover your nose or mouth with a handkerchief, or turn your face to the floor

If you get influenza, go immediately to bed and stay there for several day in order to ward off pneumonia.

Not even American triumphs can afford us keener satisfaction than the success of the Belgian troops. After four years of waiting their chance has come, and they are scoring heavily on the oppressors of their country. They are driving back the German invaders, and they are showing them there is a difference between fighting men and fighting women and children. One German regiment, which had been guilty of great excesses, suffered terribly, it is said, at the hands of the Belgian soldiers in this advance.

We may talk as much as we please about mercy and clemency, but the Belgians have an account to settle with Germany which can be settled only in one way. And the day is coming when the Huns will rue the hour when they set foot on Belgian soil he avenging wrath of a nation which has been subjected to such unspeakable wrongs will blast the offenders like the wrath of God.—Baltimore Sun.

MAXIMILIAN' APPEAL

"The German Government requests the President of the United States to take in hand the restoration of peace, acquaint all the belligerent states of this request and invite them to send plenipotentiaries for the purpose of opening negotiations.

"It accepts the program set forth by the President of the United States in his message to Congress on January 8, and in his later pronouncements, especially his speech of September 27, as a basis for peace negotiations.

"With a view to avoiding further bloodshed, the German Government requests the immediate conclusion of an armistice on land and water and in the air."

It is announced that Turkey will take a similar step.

Copenhagen, Oct. 7.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, the new German Imperial Chancellor, announced in the Reichstag Saturday that he had sent a note through the Swiss Government to President Wilson, in which he had requested Mr. Wilson to take up the question bringing about peace and to communicate with the other belligerents regarding the subject.

The Chancellor told the Reichstag he had addressed his note to the President of the United States because Mr. Wilson, in his message to Congress on January 8, 1918, and in his later proclamations, particularly his New York speech on September 27, had proposed a program for a general peace which Germany and her allies could accept as a basis for negotiations.

Berlin via. Basle, Switzerland, Oct. 7.—Emperor William today issued a proclamation to the German army and navy in which, after announcing that the Macedonian front had crumbled, he declared that he had decided, in accordance with his allies, to again offer peace to the enemy.

The text of the Emperor's proclamation reads:

"For months past the enemy with enormous exertions and almost without pause in the fighting has stormed against your lines. In weeks of the struggle often withouth repose, you have had to perserve and resist a numerically far superior enemy There in lies the greatness of the task which has been set for you and which you are fulfilling. Troops of all the German states are doing their part and are rchoically defending the fatherland on foreign soil. Hard is the task.

"My navy is holding its own against the united enemy naval forces and is unwaveringly supporting the army in its difficult struggle.

"The eyes of those at home rest with pride and admiration on the deeds of the army and the navy. I express to you the thanks of my self and the fatherland.

"The collapse of the Macedonian front has occurred in the midst of the hardest struggle. In accord with our allies. I have resolved once more to offer peace to the enemy, but I will only extend my hand for an honorable peace. We owe that to the heroes who have laid down their lives for the fatherland, and we make that our duty to our children.

"Whether arms will be lowered is a question. Until then we must not slacken. We must, as hitherto, exert all our strength unwearily to hold our ground against the onslaught of our enemies.

"The hour is grave but, trusting in your strength and in Gods gracious help, we feel ourselves to be strong enough to defend our beloved fatherland. (Signed)

"WILHELM."

Geneva, Oct. 7.—An indescribable panic without precedent broke out on the Berlin Stock Exchange Saturday, according to the Neueste Nachrichten, of Munich. Shipping and armament company shares especially were affected.

The Boy From Next Door

YOU used to see him swing gaily down the street, radiant with the vigor of his sturdy young manhood. One day he came home in khaki; then his father told you, with mingled pride and foreboding, that he had "gone across" with his regiment.

Yesterday his name was on the casualty list—"slightly wounded"—and your face grew grave as you thought of the sorrow and suspense of his father and mother.

From every city street, every village, every community, the boy next door has gone to war.

Think of these thousands of splendid young Americans, reared in comfort, peace, and security, now suddenly plunged into that roaring inferno of battle with the hardened hordes of a desperately determined foe.

What are you doing to help them?

What are you doing to arm and protect them, and bring them home in safety? Have you bought Liberty Bonds? Have you bought all you possibly can?

Has it occurred to you that one more Bond, bought with a little additional effort, may save the life of the boy from the next door?

AMERICAN TANKS TERRIFY

Germans Mowed Down When They Advance to Capture Americans

—When German forces advanced on Tuesday in an attempt to capture Apremont, on the front northwest of Verdun, American tanks suddenly emerged from the town in all directions. The tanks went lurching through the German ranks spraying bullets into them from all sides and spreading the utmost terror and consternation.

The American tanks, after smashing their way through the German lines wheeled about and repeated the operation with deadly results. The enemy losses were extremely heavy In one German company nine men were killed and 30 were wounded out of 70. In another company 10 were killed and 40 were wounded out of 80.

The extreme tension prevailing in the German lines opposite the American front in the Meuse region is shown by the Boche every morning by a heavy artillery barrage presumably to stall off an expected American attack. No infantry action follows the bombardment.

The accumulation of enemy airplanes on the American front despite the shattering blows dealt them by the Entente airmen is proof, if it be required, of the importance attached to this front. There is plenty of bombing in the night and morning, with a general show of aggressiveness during the day, but for anything the Americans have suffered from the German airmen the latter have twice and thrice as much damage to record from the splendid pilots who are causing the American planes to be dreaded in the air.

Scores of leaders in the worlds activities are endorsing CHIROPRACTIC as the efficient drugless, common sense way to health.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON

America does not intend to become spoil for the German Kaiser!

That dream was on the point of realization when America's challenge thrilled the world and America's heroes on the battle fields of France began to obscure it with their blood and valor.

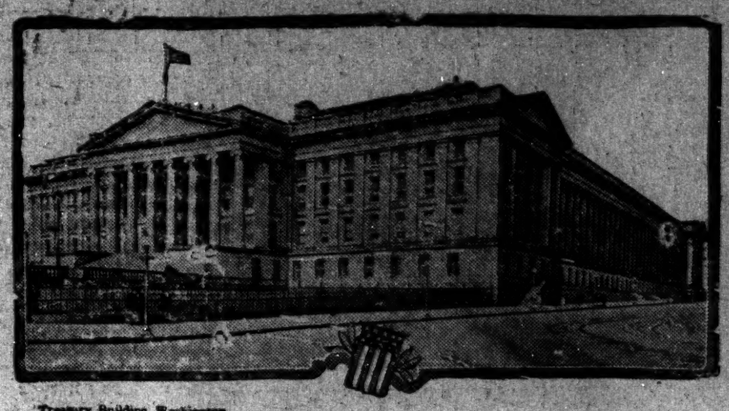
Already the crack legions of the Kaiser have been beaten by the brief trained freemen of the world's highest democracy.

The Stars and Stripes are on their way to Berlin. Nothing can stop our progress but our failure to do our part at home as well as our heroes are doing their part in France.

No one thing will win this war. Neither food, nor fuel, nor ships, nor airplanes, nor transportation, nor ammunition, nor army, nor navy, nor men alone—but all in full measure, supplied all the time and on time, are necessary to Victory.

Every pound of food and fuel saved, every ship and airplane built, every ton of ammunition furnished, every shot fired, every shred of clothing made, every dollar paid to our soldiers and sailors and their dependent families and every other demand upon the Government to carry on the war, comes back to and is met by the United States Treasury.

Suppose the Treasury should fail to meet these demands, what would happen? Failure and disaster on the battle-field and ruin at home. Defeat of our army, our Navy and all our operations, financial [illegible]



Treasury Building, Washington

That is why the Treasury is absolutely fundamental to the war—that is why the Treasury stands under and supports every Department and agency of the Government—that is why the Treasury is carrying the most colossal burden in the world's history.

Money must, therefore, be provided in sufficient amount by the people—all the people—if the war is to be won.

There are two ways to get it—by taxation and by Liberty Bonds.

Three Liberty Loans have been oversubscribed to protect America's [illegible]

The Fourth Liberty Loan is needed offered. It must be [illegible] must not fail. Every patriot must buy Liberty bonds with [illegible] can raise and save. [illegible] them.

A glorious victory will be won if the Treasury is kept strong.

The Fourth Liberty Loan is the barrage that will precede [illegible] million drive of our army.

Keep the Stars and Stripes marching with our heroes to Berlin.
